MEMBERSHIP APPLICATION

Thank you for your interest in joining the Brisbane Hebrew Congregation (BHC). We look forward to welcoming you.

How to submit your application

Our preferred method is via email to Leah Phillips - leah.phillips242@gmail.com

What you should know

The application process involves four steps:

1. Completion of this application form
2. Submission of relevant documentation; and
3. Assessment of your application by our Rabbi, who will provide advice to the Management Committee
4. Acceptance or rejection of your application by the Management Committee.

Basic Criteria for Applying for Membership

You must be of the Jewish faith and over 18 years of age. The Congregation has a Modern Orthodox practice.

Information Required

It is essential that you attach documents establishing your Jewish status such, as an authorised copy of an Orthodox Ketubah, Conversion Certificate or Transfer Clearance from a previous Orthodox Congregation, so that this application can be processed.

This form consists of initial information to become a member. If you would like further information, please contact the membership officer by email as above. Further details may be requested of you.

All information is held in the strictest confidence and in accordance with our privacy policy.

Membership Fees

Fees are calculated with reference to seat allocation. Seats closest to the Aron Kodesh attract a higher fee than those further away. Seat allocation will be discussed with you once your membership application is received.

A full fee is payable by Adult Ordinary Members.

A discounted membership fee may apply to Students, Pensioners and Country Members.

Membership is payable on acceptance of application, annually in full or by monthly instalments.

Consideration of application

Once your membership application has been assessed, and your initial membership fee is received, the Management Committee will consider and decide on your application for membership.
